Lesson Plan: Liz Ward, Ghosts of the Old Mississippi: Baton Rouge to Donaldsonville

The students will study Liz Ward's multi-media collage Ghosts of the Old Mississippi: Baton Rouge to Donaldsonville. Specifically, the students will examine how Ward represented a connection between the artistic representation of the Mississippi River region and the history of this area of the Mississippi River. Afterwards, the students will begin the project by writing a short paper about a chosen historical landscape. Once the students have completed their papers, the students will finish the project by creating a multi-media collage. The collage will represent the history found in the student's chosen landscape.
